

The image shows three circular buttons. One button in the foreground is dark with a white border of stars and contains a newspaper clipping with the headline "American Legion national" and a photograph of a group of people. Another button behind it also features a newspaper clipping. A third button to the left is white with the word "VOTE" in bold black letters and a row of stars above it. The background is a light, textured surface.

Communities with a local newspaper are smarter, stronger and closer. Their citizens are connected to one another, and invested in what happens around them.

The local paper is also one of the only places you can find timely news on what's happening right where you live. That's why 152 million Americans read local newspapers each week.

Keep reading your local newspaper...and keep your community going strong.
